lines 10-49". Also Applicant cannot find in the locations of the references kindly identified for claim 25, any teaching of receiving circuitry with first and second signal receiving paths providing "respective different signal processing characteristics". Any diversity receiver would select different paths in space leading to the respective antennas, but this seems unrelated to the receiving circuitry having paths providing different signal processing characteristics. It appears that all the references relied upon clearly teach the use of receiving circuits with identical signal receiving paths providing identical signal processing characteristics.

Under these circumstances, it is respectfully submitted that there should be no need for proceeding with an appeal, but Applicant is willing to file a Notice of Appeal if more time is needed to arrange for an interview.

Applicant's undersigned attorney proposes to telephone the Examiner on Monday, to seek to arrange an interview.

Respectfully submitted
